

10/15/69

Mr. Paul Rothermel
The Hunt Oil Co.,
1401 Elm St.,
Dallas, Texas

Dear Paul,

Here is the document about which I wrote you recently. I regret the copy is poor, but it is, actually, more legible than the original xerox. I have learned how to bring them out a little better by over-exposing the xerox in a CMA copier. I regret I can't afford a better machine, for then some of these really poor documents might be better improved. However, I think you'll have no trouble making it out.

This is from Comstock File 87 (they call the files "documents", hence "0007"). It is further identified as Secret Service Control No. 484.

I particularly direct your attention to the first full paragraph of the third page. You will notice Ruby's alleged connection with R. Hunt is underscored. This was in the original or in whatever was copied on the file xerox copy.

I have been more or less on edge for an eye out for what might interest you, as I also asked Gary to do. However, it occurs to me you might want a more complete check made. I've never looked your way up. This would mean asking for everything on him in the "name file". There might be one on him, there might not be. The list is not public, not available on a list. I'd just ask for everything on him. If you'd like me to do this, please let me know. Also Punker. Any others?

They have just halved the charge to 10¢ a sheet. If there are not many, I've forgot about it. However, if it involves numerous pages, I would appreciate it if you could return the cost. I cannot exaggerate how bad our finances are.

I doubt if even a large file would represent an extensive cost to you. If you would like to have as close as we can get to everything, you will have most of it. I'll do a name list and, if I see anything else, get that as each arises or is seen.

Hurriedly,

PH: If you would copy for Gary, I'd appreciate. My box of this extensive paper is getting too close to bottom and I can't immediately pay for another. I must then allow a week for delivery.

Harold Weinberg

Unless I husband, I'll run out. Copy of CD, that is.